DR. GOLDSCMIDT GUARDS INVENTION

His Wonderful Wireless Telegraphy Claims Kept A Mystery.

WONDER OF THE AGE.

Alleges he Has Talked From Germany to Man in Jersey City—To Revolutionize Communication.

London, July 5—Dr. Goldschmidt an inventor of a new system of wireless, which it is said, will revolutionize such communication, has telegraphed his London agent that he has satisfactorily established communication between Neustadt am Ruebenberg, near Hanover and Tuckerton, N. J, for two days during the daytime, when the power employed at Neustadt, -50 kilowats, was more than sufficient for the distance of 3,900 miles

It is said that Mr. Meyer, the agent for Dr. Goldschmidet at Tuckerton, advised that the power in future be reduced.

'Singing Wheel" a Success.

In the tests the new "singing wheel" used in this invention was said to have shown itself to be capable of such delicate adjustment that secret messages can be sent, inasmuch as it can be varied and adjusted instantaneously to any length of wave.

The reception of messages it is said, is so delicate, that an attempt to tap it would involve the necessity of another company tuning to within .05 per cent of the Goldschmidt message in order to be able to receive anything that could be understood.

An English company, with a privately subscribed capital of $5000,000 will be registered probably on July 7 or 8. Sir Oliver Lodge scientist, expresses the opinion that the Goldschmidt machine will rule the aerography of the future.

New York, July 5.—Mr. Mayer, who has been experimenting with Dr. Goldschmidt's invention at Tuckerton, N. J., refused to confirm or deny the report that he had succeeded in establishing communication with Germany. He declared that he did not wish to talk about it at all.

Attempts were made to learn from residents of Tuckerton if they had heard anything about the success of Mr. Mayer's experiments. No one could be found who had any success in getting Mr. Mayer to say whether or not he had telegraphed to Germany by wireless.

A. L. I. TO LEAVE TOMORROW.

Local Company Will Report at 6 A. M. and Leave at 7:30.

Plans have been perfected for the attendance of members of Company G, Alexandria Light Infantry, at the encampment of state troops at Virginia Beach which is to begin on Sunday next. The local company will be in command of Captain F. L. Slaymaker First Lieutenant H. Noel Garner and Second Lieutenant G. C. Trenary and will leave here at 7:30 o'clock by rail for Virginia Beach.

Norfolk, Va., July 5.—Colonel Jo Lane Stern, inspector general of the State militia, arrived in Norfolk from Richmond yesterday afternoon and went immediately to the camp site at Virginia Beach. Brigadier General C. C. Vaughan, of Franklin, reached the city yesterday afternoon, and with Maj. C. L. Wright, assistant adjutant general, and other staff officers, went to the camp grounds, where they will remain until the encampment of the State troops is over on July 13. Other staff officers who reached the site were Maj. Peyton B. Winfree and Major Alfred B. Percy.

As the result of a request made by General Vaughan several days ago, Maj. I. Walke Truxtun of Norfolk, has been designed as commissary officer for the encampment. Maj. Truxtun is in the quartermaster's department, but has been on waiting orders for some time and his ability to handle the commissary end of the assemblage made it desirable to have his services at this time.

Contracts for the 1,800 or 2,000 troops were awarded Thursday. The rations for the soldiers will cost the government 3,025, or 11,000 at 27 1-2 cents each, and these have been required from the War Department.

TO BE A STATE INSTITUTION.

Arlington National Bank Will Organize as a Trust Company.

The Arlington National Bank, at Roslyn, Va., which has been Alexandria county's principal financial institution for a number of years, is about to reorganize as a trust company incorporated under the Virginia law. The present capitalization of $25,000 will be increased to $100,000 which will be issued in shares of a small par value and subscribed by local capitalists. The movement will be undertaken by the directors of the present institution headed by E. Willey Stearnes, who will have charge of the reorganization.

It is understood that the principal purpose of the new bank is not only to loan money on negotiable paper and notes secured by deeds of trust on real estate but to provide a place where the uninformed may feel they are able to purchase notes secured by trusts on real property with a reasonable surety that the security is such as it purports to be. Business men in Alexandria county have long felt the need of an institution of this character, which will have authority to handle a wider scope of business than the present national bank.

RESULT OF SANE FOURTH.

No Accidents Reported by Physicians Yesterday as Result of Explosions.

A druggist, who has conducted business in Alexandria forty-one years, told a representative of the Gazette this morning that yesterday was the first Fourth of July in his experience that he was not called on to dress wounds, burns, etc. the result of explosions.

The above statement should appeal to all people in the community and the action of the authorities should be commended and all should vie in the attempts to minimize danger on Fourth of July and Christmas by the abolition of dangerous features. The beneficial effects of the new order of things yestrday has been oft commented upon, and it is hoped there will be more fusilades on the greatest holidays of the year.

TEN DOLLARS REWARD will be paid for the arrest and conviction of persons who stole galvanized iron section and cedar posts from rear of advertising signs on King street, between Peyton St., and Spring Park. M. A. Kettler, 517 13th street, N. W. Washington, D. C. 5 3t.

HOUSE WILL JOIN SENATE IN PROBE

Dual Investigation of Lobby Will Soon be In Full Operation.

TO BE FAR-REACHING.

Eager For Documentary Basis For Mulhall Charges—House Inquiry to be Non-Partisan.

Washington, July 5.—While Senate investigation eagerly examined the documentary basis for the "Mulhall charges", the House made ready today to begin the lobby hunt. Two groups of legislative huntsmen will be on the trail of the lobby and lobbyists within a week.

The Overman committee of the Senate will start its probe of the Mulhall charges Monday, following a brief turn at the alleged wool lobbyists. But that time it is also expected that the House investgators will be anxious for the chase.

The two investigating boards will make things uncomfortable for every lobbyist who crosses the path of the subpoena power.

Convening after July 4 holiday, the House is scheduled today to receive a reports from the rules committee providing for a drastic probe not only of the Mulhall charges but of lobbies and lobbyists in general. Chairman Henry of the Rules Committee, indicates that the powers of the House Lobby Investigating Committee will be so broad that their dragnet will bring in any person who has sought to influence legislation in any way.

The Rules Committee met this morning to whip the resolution for an investigation into shape.

The House probe will be a non-partisan affair, all of the leaders having joined in the program for a thorough sifting of the allegations that certain members of Congress were easy to influence in behalf of the National Association of Manufacturers.

After disposing of this feature of the probe the House committee will turn the light on those who have lobbied for or against tariff revision currency reform, prohibition, railroad legislation, or any other brand of legislation, in which the organization show sufficient interest to maintain a lobby in Washington

WATCHMAN KILLS PROWLER.

Black Thief Shot Aboard Freight Train.

Peersburg, Va., July 5—W. A. Williams, watchman for the Seaboard Air Line railway, in self defense shot and killed an unidentified negro, after a desperate struggle with him in the yards of the railway company near West street Wednesday night.

The negro was noticed in the yards early in the night and made an attempt to enter the caboose of a northbound freight, but was frightened away.

Williams noticed the negro and he boarded this train and went to Chester returning on a southbound freight where he concealed himself in the caboose. His ruse worked perfectly, and when this train arrived in the yards in Petersburg the negro entered the caboose and started to go through the clothes of the trainmen.

Williams pointed his pistol in the negro's face, telling him that he was under arrest. The negro sprang at him and made desperate efforts to take the pistol from Williams. He was warned by Williams that unless he stopped he would shoot him. Finally the negro made a show of submission and William started down the tarck with his prisoner. They had only proceeded a short distance when the negro sprang on Williams again.

After struggling with him for several minutes, Williams again warned the negro that unless he desisted he would shoot him. The negro paid no attenion to the warning, and Williams began to shoot. He shot four times, three of the bullets striking the negro in the breast. The negro broke away from Williams, ran about thirty yards and fell dead.

New York, July 5—Tammany celebrated Independence Day at Fourteenth street Wigwam. United States Senator Charles S. Thomas, of Colorado, Hon. C. C. Carlin, of Virginia, and a number of Congressmen furnished the oratory.

The keynote of the celebration was the demand of the speakers for a larger United States Navy and a higher merchant marine. Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, introduced a resolution which was adopted with great applause recommending to Congress that the United States build a larger navy

Adrian T. Kiernan, scribe of the Tammany society, read letters of congratulation from Governors, including Mann, of Virginia; Speaker Champ Clark and Oscar W. Underwood.

Celebration of the Fourth of July with fireworks this year resulted in only eight deaths and 365 injuries in the entire country. None of the deaths reported came from the larger cities. The fire loss also was much smaller than has been reported on Independence Day in previous years.

The Truth About Electric Cooking

For large families where the average domestic help is employed and a large amount of cooking done, Electric Cooking will be found more expensive, and in most cases not advisable.

In small families, where no help is employed, and where nice equipment is desired, Electric cooking will be found many times more convenient, more certain in results and safer in operation—as well as reasonable in cost.

In every family a few utensils for early breakfast emergency and special uses—and for cheering up cold meals with a warm dish or two—is highly advisable from every standpoint, including that of economy.

CLOSE OF THE GREAT REUNION.

The Gettysburg reunion of survivors of the Army of the Potomac and the Army of Northern Virginia, is now a thing of the past, and the gray-bearded men who wore the Confederate colors and those who fought under the Stars and Stripes are now wending their respective ways toward different points of the compass, all realizing that it was well for them to have been there.

This reunion was pleasant in every feature, although the weather was sultry. The bloody shirt, which misguided men of both sections wavd so long, is buried so deep that is is now hard to designate its final resting place Should any one attempt to exhume it at this time there would be vigorous protests from both sections of the country.

The final scenes at the reunion were interesting and impressive and will long be remembered by the many who witnessed them.

Representatives of but one section of the country listened to Lincoln's Gettysburg address. It was, of course, in a measure, partisan, but was couched in pathetic language which has found response in many souls.

The historical setting of yesterday's exercises after swords have remained in their scabbards nearly half a century with the participants on both sides engaged in civic employments, and at a time, too, when the anniversary of the birth of the nation was being celebrated, was fitting. and had Lincoln been in the flesh he would undoubtedly have rejoiced at the opportunity of further adding to his Gettysburg epic. In his inaugarl address in 1861 he said the black cloud then enveloping the country would eventually pass away and the sun again shine on a united nation. This prophecy has long been fulfilled.

"Peace on earth," was the final message which waved over Gettysburg this morning, where the last of fifty thousand veterans were breaking camp.

Sergeant Marcey, of Boston, wigwagged the first message from Little Round Top. It was "Peace on earth, good will to men." From Seminary Ridge, Lieutenant George C. Round. of Virginia, waved back, "Glory to God in the highest."

" 'Let us have peace'—Grant," came from the hills and from the place where the Confederate lines fought fifty years ago the words "Duty, the sublimest in our language'—Lee," was sent.

MORE LIQUOR, FEWER SALOONS.

According to the officials of the Internal Revenue Bureau Americans drank more whisky and beer in the fiscal year just closed than ever before, but managed this consumption in 18,000 less retail drinking places than in the preceding year. From the latter fact our prohibition friends will draw courage to fortify themselves against the rather discouraging revelation that the thirst of the country seems to grow steadily despite all their assaults upon the Demon Rum. The decrease in the number of saloons can doubtless be attributed to the spread of prohibition or local option sentiment in many States, notably in the South, where great numbers of saloons have been wiped out. Apparently, however, this has not been accompanied, by the decrease in the consumption of liquor that might naturally be expected—a state of affairs that seems to point to much drinking in illegal places or in the privacy of home. Whether true temperance has been much of a gainer by the change is open to doubt.

The number of retail drinking places now in the country, roughly stated as about 45,000, gives one such place to every 250 people, which cannot be considered an especially good showing. It is very much higher than the percentage of regularly licensed saloons that prevails in Philadelphia and most other large cities. There can be no doubt, however, that while Americans continue a thirsty race they manage their drinking with much more order and decorum than formerly prevailed. To one whose memory goes back a few years there is noticeable a very decided improvement in the bibulous habits of our people, and this is likely to continue steadily.—(Philadelphia Record.

ARMOR PLATE PLANT.

Bureau of Ordnance Drafts Report on U. S. Factory.

The bureau of ordnance has completed a preliminary draft of a report upon the purposed establishmen of a government armor plate factory, which, after revision by Mr. Daniels, the Secretary of the Navy, will be sent to Congress.

Accompanying the report are detailed estimates of the amount of money necessary for the establishment and maintenance of the factory together with designs for the construction and arrangements of the plant.

Senator Claude Swanson, of Virginia, who is a member of the Naval Committee of the Senate, has signified his deisre and intention to do all in his power to further the claims of Alexandria as the logical place for the location of this plant should the Government decide to built one ,

A number of cities have already begun an active campaign through their respective trade bodies to present their claims to congress for the location of this armor plant at places in which they are interested.

It is unlikel that congress at this specal session will consider the armor plate plant. It is expected however that the bill will come up for favorable action this winter.

MAJOR EWING ASKS FOR INTERVIEWS.

Let us get better acquainted before the primaryI It is imposcible for me to visit many of you. Therefore I cordially invite voters who honestly want to determine who is the best and most competent to serve in the next legislature to come to see me at Hotel Rammel, and let us face to face, talk about the real issues in this primary.

Many of you have said that you do not know me. I offer you this, the only opportunity in my power to call Monday afternoon and evening.

This is your fight. To mere mere election means little. There are issues and principles involved that will affect your business and that will directly concern your children for many years to come. I am spending largely of my time and money believing that I am the best prepared man to make the fight for the cause of temperance and for better tax conditions, &c.; and for better schools and high license and fewer saloons, should your town remain wet. Therefore every man in Alexandria who stands with me for these reforms, and who believes in the fairness of the enabling act for which, as I have said in print, I shall vote if elected, owes it to himself and his community to give me his vote and to help me get out the full vote of all who stand on our platform.

Every man in Alexandria knows where the saloon vote is going. Every honest man knows that vote is not coming to me. I do not stand with and am under no obligations to either the saloon or the machine. I need the active help of every man who does not feel that it is well for either longer to control in selecting our officials; and I must have the influence and vote of every man who wants to see the high principles for which I stand succeed. Come in and get my full platform.

..There is no conflicting interests between the county and the city. I can and will serve the city as well and faithfully as either competitor. Surely each section of this district has the right to name the representative at least now and then. The mere fact that I am a county man of tself means nothng, but wth the qualifications and integrity which the county vouches I have, the fact that the district had not been represented by a county man for over twenty years ought to elect your help as a matter of justice. And to this the great questions for which I stand, and the equity of my plea is beyond dispute

Be not deceived: practically all of the votes cast n the county will be given for me. If you think this is merely my dream, call up Capt. Mackey, Mr. E. W. Ball and any half dozen of the leading and honest men of the county, ether in office or in private life, and learn the truth of my statement, too. then read Commonwealth Attorney Mackey's endorsement in the local papers.

An interview is respectfully solicited, or your name if you will help, as well as your vote on Tuesday.

Yours Sincerely,
E. W. R. EWING.

To The Voters of Alexandria City and County:—

I most respectively ask your kind consideration of my candidacy for the State Legislature and earnestly solicit your vote on July 8, 1913.

I promise to faithfully serve the people of both the City and County in all matters that they may bring before me in an impartial manner and will devote all of my time to the Legislature during its session, believing as I do that the sixty days is scarcely enough time to give to such important questions as will come before the Legislature this fall.

Secton 2 of our Constitution says that all power is vested in and consequently derived from the people and that public servants should at all times be amenable to them. I am willing at all times to trust the people, to vote on any subject which they may desire, and I will not try to dictate what they shall do in such matters. I, therefore, positively state that I will vote for the Enabling Act if it comes before the Legislature this fall. Personally I do not favor state wide prohibitian. Iam a firm believer n local self government—by the people—and am personally in favor of local option rather than state wide prohibition.

I believe these questions should be considered from a social and moral standpoint. I believe that every self-governing community which constitutes a social unit should have the right to regulate the liquor license and that this should be put before the people as a single issue.

I believe the tax question deserves serious consideration at the hands of our legislators and I would recommend a tax commisson composed of good able business men of well known experience along these lines.

I am in favor of a uniform assessment throughout the state and would use my best efforts to that end. I am not in favor of the fee system and would give serious consideration to this question.

I am in favor of the election of judges and all public officials by the people.

I am in favor of better protection of our river fisheries and the enforcement of our game laws.

I believe in good roads and the protection of our rural districts.

I believe in our public schools, and will never loose an opportunity to work for their good.

I believe that automobiles and motor vehicles have become one of the necessaries of life and should receive more careful and serious thought from our law-makers so that the owners may feel that they have been justly dealt with when paying their taxes to the state.

I believe that we should have reciprocal automobile laws between the State of Virginia and the District of Columbia, and shall use my best influence to that end.

I believe in good, clean, honest dealing with all men and promise to advance these priciples in every way that is in my power during my term as your humble servant,

O. P. ANGELO.
